

about | sven luetzenkirchen

Sven has been making films since he was 15 years old, just for fun at first, then at film school and professionally as DOP. His studies at film school focussed on both documentaries and feature films, and he has since worked interdisciplinarily with both. His studies produced a number of joint and individual film projects with the Academy of Media Arts Cologne and the Bauhaus University in Weimar. His graduate film "Air" was nominated for the "Deutsche Kamerapreis 2002" in the category "Best Cinematography and Film Editing for a Short Film." During his studies he became interested in working on commercials and worked early on for the DDB in Düsseldorf, where he has worked as a freelancer. Since 2002 he has been working as a freelance D.O.P in the fields of advertising, image films and documentaries.